

Licences for collaborative databases developed at ISRIC (1980-2015)

(20 January 2016)

Over the years, in collaboration, several soil data sets with point data have been developed at ISRIC using materials provided by a range of contributors (documented as best as possible in the respective databases). These include: ISIS, WISE and SOTER.

These compilations were released under the following licence:

"Materials developed by ISRIC are copyrighted, all rights reserved. Reproduction and dissemination of such materials for educational or non-commercial purposes are authorized without any prior written permission from the copyright holder provided the source is fully acknowledged (see above). Reproduction or use of materials for resale or other commercial purposes is prohibited without prior written permission of the copyright holder."

<http://www.isric.org/content/data-usage-and-citation>

This licence is in-line with those of FAO, UNEP and JRC (at the time of compilation).

Broadly, for administration purposes in WoSIS, this should correspond with a CC-BY-NC licence.